About this experience

This six-day private tour is designed as a relaxed, Muslim-friendly introduction to Sri Lanka, moving through the central highlands before returning to the coast at Colombo. It covers Kandy's botanical gardens, the tea country around Nuwara Eliya, waterfalls and plantations on the road between the two, and a final day exploring Colombo's historic and commercial quarters before departure.

Travellers get a leisurely-paced look at the island's culture and heritage rather than a packed sightseeing schedule, with time built in to walk through gardens, visit a working tea factory, and explore colonial-era hill towns on foot. The trip is run as a private tour throughout, with an English-speaking chauffeur guide handling all driving and logistics from arrival at Colombo airport to final departure.

Hotel accommodation, entrance fees, visa fees, airfare and personal expenses are arranged separately and are not included in the tour price, though all prevailing taxes and service charges on the tour itself are covered.

Day 2 Kandy

A day in Kandy centred on the city's botanical gardens.

Royal Botanical Gardens, Peradeniya

Formed in the early 19th century, the gardens cover a vast area containing over 4,000 species of plants, including orchids, spices and medicinal plants. Avenues are shaded by large and rare trees and bordered by flowering plants. Highlights include the cannonball tree, a wobbly suspension bridge, short hedge mazes and twisty trees good for climbing.

Day 3 Kandy → Nuwara Eliya

The drive to Nuwara Eliya takes in one of the island's notable waterfalls and a working tea estate.

Ramboda Ella

Ramboda Ella is the 11th highest waterfall in Sri Lanka, located near Pussellawa, and consists of three sections. The middle section can be seen from the A5 highway just above the bridge, though it is small compared with the other parts, and the top section is only partly visible from the main road. A pathway just before the bridge leads up to a full view of the top fall, though the climb can be demanding.

Tea Factory and Plantation

A visit to a tea factory and plantation shows how Ceylon Tea is manufactured. A tea plant was brought to Ceylon from China by the British in 1824 and first planted at the Royal Botanical Gardens in Peradeniya for non-commercial purposes. James Taylor, a British settler who arrived in 1852 and settled at the Loolecondera estate in Kandy, introduced commercial tea cultivation to the island, which went on to become famous worldwide for its quality.

Day 4 Nuwara Eliya

A day exploring the former British hill station on foot.

Nuwara Eliya Town

Nuwara Eliya was the premium holiday resort town for the British in the 19th and early 20th centuries, and its streets still hold pretty cottages, quaint villas and grand mansions. The old red-bricked post office is a good stop for an inexpensive postcard.

Day 5 Nuwara Eliya → Colombo

The journey continues down to Colombo, with time to explore the capital's historic mosque, colonial landmarks and shopping districts.

Jami Ul-Alfar Mosque

Also known as the Red Mosque, this is one of Colombo's oldest mosques. Arab traders first arrived in Sri Lanka in the 7th century AD, when the island was a hub on the spice and silk trade routes, and they have maintained a presence in the country ever since.
