About this experience

This two-day private tour runs from Colombo to Udawalawe National Park and on to the historic fort town of Galle, built for travellers with limited time who still want a real chance of seeing wild elephants alongside Sri Lanka's colonial heritage.

Your chauffeur guide drives you south for two half-day jeep safaris in Udawalawe, tracking elephant herds across open grassland and around the reservoir, plus the chance to spot buffalo, deer and birdlife. From there, continue to Galle Fort, one of the best-preserved fortifications in Asia, where ramparts, a lighthouse and cobbled streets trace centuries of Dutch and Portuguese rule.

Travel is in a private air-conditioned vehicle with an English-speaking chauffeur guide throughout, with a litre of water provided per person each day. Accommodation for the overnight stay, meals, entrance fees to Udawalawe National Park and gratuities are arranged and paid separately.
