About this experience

This four-day private tour is built around Sri Lanka's farming traditions, taking in working farms, seed production sites and tea plantations across the island's agricultural heartland. Travelling by private air-conditioned vehicle with a chauffeur guide throughout, the route runs from Colombo airport through farm villas near Kurunegala and Polonnaruwa district before finishing near Kandy.

Depending on the season, you may see rice being cultivated or harvested, and you can step into paddy fields to learn about the cultivation process first-hand. The tour also covers fruit and vegetable farms, a major seed production operation, and a tea factory where you can watch leaves being plucked and processed before sampling and buying tea on site.

All transport, fuel, parking, highway tolls, taxes and service charges are included. Hotel accommodation, entrance fees and personal expenses are not, so these should be budgeted separately. The tour has a minimum age of five years.
